

Dementia Friend Champions

The Alzheimer's Society is calling for people to be trained as Dementia Friends Champions as part of the Dementia Friends programme. The initiative reached its original target of 1 million Dementia Friends in February 2015. The new target is to have 4 million Dementia Friends by 2020.

Dementia Friends Champions will have a key role in running information sessions and encouraging people to be a friend and achieve this target.

You will be required to attend a one day training session in the local area which is funded by The Alzheimer's Society. The sessions include information about dementia and how it affects people, as well as the practical things that can be done to help people with dementia live well in their community.

After completing the course Dementia Friends Champions can access resources and tools to help set up and run sessions for people who sign up as Dementia Friends

You will then be encouraged to run Dementia Friends sessions in your workplace and local community
